

One Piece Website

Jefferson Duan
11/13/2019

Content Outline

I want to make one long horizontal scrolling website (or if the content does not conform well to the format, a long vertical scrolling website) with a fixed navigation bar at the top that allows the user to instantly click to specific points on the site, so scrolling is present but not necessary.

- Starting Section - the page opens up on this section by default. It will contain basic info on what One Piece is and its feats and accomplishments as a manga series and media franchise
- Synopsis - premise, setting, and general motifs
- Production/History
- Media - divided into sections (perhaps with another extra navigation bar) for Manga, Anime, Theatrical Films/Video Games/Music, and Other/Miscellaneous
- Sources - contains all sources from the Wikipedia page(s), as well as specific volume/chapter references for the cut out images of the manga I plan to use.